JEFFERSON PARTY TO NAME CANDIDATES

Madison Square Garden, New York, Is Filled With the Rank And File of Democracy — Vast Crowds Await Proceedings

HULL APPEARS AT NOON

Temperature Is Ranging In the Nineties—Newton D. Baker, Former Secretary of War, Appears In the Interests of James M. Cox

Madison Square Garden, New York, June 24.—The Democratic convention battle of 1924 is on.

In the temperature ranging around 90 degrees and in an atmosphere of high tension, Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National committee, called the convention to order at 12:44 o'clock and what promises to be the most memorable session in the party's history got under way.

It required several minutes for the house to get in order and then Cardinal Hayes gave the invocation.

Hayes prayed for abundant benediction upon this country.

Miss Case, Metropolitan Opera star, sang "The Star Spangled Banner." The whole crowd joined in the chorus, led by Miss Case.

It was a good-natured crowd in a merry mood that assembled in the hall. Not much in the smiling countenances of the young and old male delegates to indicate the strife ahead.

Nothing quarrelsome in the faces of women delegates, many of them strikingly beautiful in dress and colors of lavender, yellow, green, and white.

Looking down upon the delegates was a packed gallery, also sparkling with colors of femininity were the selected group on the speakers' platform, most of whom were women.

At noon, the hour set for calling the convention to order, Chairman Hull, who emerged from a state of near collapse as a result of his work and worry, appeared on the platform.

He has been confined to his room constantly since he broke down yesterday and he was quite pale. Arranged about him on the platform were leaders and celebrities, among them Joseph Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy, mingling around before the convention was called to order, shaking hands with old acquaintances.

A huge crowd gathered in Madison Square park across the street, to hear proceedings which were transmitted through the Magnavox. Similar crowds gathered in Central park, several blocks away, to hear developments by radio.

Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, and one of the leaders of the Ohio delegates, mingled with friends on the floor. He is working for James M. Cox, and his calling Cox for nomination is awaited as one of the highest spots of the convention. Baker is regarded as one of the most renowned and forceful speakers of the party.

circuses have been held in this historic building, but none of them have matched the combination of both that began here today with the opening of the Democratic national convention.

"Fair and cooler" was the official convention weather forecast for New York City, but "high temperatures and storms" was the unmistakable outlook for the actual convention area, as delegates and ticket bearers filed toward the Garden long before noon, the hour set for calling the first session to order.

It is to be a week of dramatic sensations—possibly two weeks—and each of these sensations packs danger to the party chances this fall.

Through the great Garden stalk the troublesome issues of the Ku Klux Klan, the league of nations, prohibition—and, in the background for the moment, the impending fight supreme between the men who aspire to lead the party in the coming campaign.

At their headquarters, temporarily out of the stirring picture of action in the convention, leading candidates for the presidential nomination await their turn. But on the platform here and out among the delegates are such figures as Newton D. Baker, William Jennings Bryan, Senator Royal Copeland, Gov. Albert Ritchie, of Maryland, and many others, whom the presidential lightning may strike before the convention closes.

Colored Folk Are Fined—Leave Town

Andy Williams and Mrs. Lenora Branch, colored folk, who live in the colored settlement of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, were fined, Williams, $50 and costs, and the woman, $25 and costs, and told by Burgess J. Bryant Tussing to leave town.

Mike Chupasko for being drunk and disorderly, forfeited $10 by failing to appear for a hearing.

Morris Porter, a huckster, arrested by Health Officer William M. Darby for maintaining a nuisance in the rear of his building in Sixth street, was fined $5 and costs.

The cases of those said to be guilty of dumping garbage and refuse along the railroad and hollow in Twelfth street, and getting on the coal tipples and jumping on cars, are held in abeyance, pending warnings.

The police said this morning that the family of Robert A. Garbut, 35 years old, of Eldora, want word of him; that he has been missing since Friday evening, and strenuous efforts are being made to find him. He is a single man, and his disappearance is not only causing his family great anxiety, but it is involved in mystery, as no cause can be ascribed.

QUICK ACTION SAVES BATHER

The quick action and presence of mind on the part of Charles Reece, in charge of the Speers bathing beach at Speers, saved the life of Miss Lillian Atkin, aged 14 years, who, with her companion, Miss Charlotte Ewald both of Belle Vernon, were swimming in the Monongahela river at about 4 o'clock.

Miss Atkin was trying to learn to float, and her companion was holding her above the water and instructing her. While upon her back, the girl lost confidence in herself and breaking from the grasp of her friend she disappeared beneath the water. Miss Ewald's screams brought the immediate assistance of Reece, who removed the girl from the water, and after administering first aid, she was taken to her home.

TO ORGANIZE A CHAMBER

H. R. Campbell, secretary of the Washington Chamber of Commerce, will tell the people of Bentleyville tonight the advantages accruing from a Chamber of Commerce—a body that is in the making in that borough.

The meeting will be held in the Liberty Theatre building, and it is said that the citizenry of the town are deeply interested in the movement, and that the possibilities of the organization of the Chamber are bright. Bentleyville is growing, and the need of a Chamber of Commerce is felt. The borough is over 100 years old.

WITH MAUGHAN'S FLIGHT, DREAMS COME TRUE

San Francisco, June 24.—Fleeter almost than the sun itself, Lieut. Russell Maughan flew by daylight from New York to San Francisco Monday and the dream of American airmen of a dawn-to-dusk transcontinental flight became a reality.

A new era of aviation has been opened up by the courageous and successful venture, army and civilian flying men declared today as congratulations were showered upon the daring army officer who left Mitchell Field, N. Y., at 2:59 a. m., eastern standard time, and arrived in San Francisco 21 hours and 45 minutes later.

What army men visualize is a fleet of airplanes on one coast called by wire or wireless to defense of other and spanning the entire United States within a single day.

It was past dusk when Maughan's record flight came to an end at Grissie Field, but airmen pointed out he had delayed at dawn, that the sun was up 37 minutes before the little plane hummed off into the west, and that the flyer actually arrived 18 minutes ahead of schedule.

Maughan was "air sick" a couple of dozen times during his flight. He ate little, he said, between the time he left New York and his arrival here. Face wind burnt, eyes flaming, red rimmed, sunken and blood hot, hands trembling with sheer fatigue, the airman was bundled off to bed after he had sketched a brief, unromantic word picture of his epoch-making flight.

"In the mountain country we made 140 miles an hour. Over level country—faster time, better than 150 miles, I think,"—unpicturesque details that occur first to the trained flyer were given by Maughan as he sank exhausted into an easy chair after he had been assisted with much backslapping and handshaking from his plane.

"We?" some one asked.

"Me and my plane."

Young Monessen Girl Punished By Father Threatens Drowning

Yesterday morning, Mary Kochin, eight years old, residing near the Grandview cemetery, about two miles from Monessen, was probably rescued from self-destruction.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kochin, and yesterday morning was punished by her father. According to her own statement later she intended jumping into the Monongahela river and drowning. She was seen near the river bank by a passer-by who took her to the Monessen police station, where she explained, quite candidly, that she had been whipped and intended drowning in the river.

FOREIGNER KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

Joe Zubar, a foreigner, employed as host engineer by the Atlas Coal company of Atlasburg, near Burgettstown, was instantly killed yesterday morning at 4 o'clock when he lost control of his speeding car on the Burgettstown-Hickory road, one mile south of Atlasburg. Zubar, it is alleged was drunk, having purchased a half gallon of moonshine, and in an attempt to light a cigarette his car shot to one side of the road. In attempting to get it straightened out he drove it to the other side and turning sideways it slid more than 50 feet down the road, finally upsetting.

Zubar was caught under a bow of the top of the car and his head was pressed against his chest, strangling him to death. Mrs. Charles Patterson, and Mrs. Clara Wheeler and daughter Rosella, all colored, who had been drinking and riding the roads between Burgettstown, Atlasburg, Hickory and Cherry Valley with Zubar, fled with minor hurts when the upset occurred but Charles Patterson who was also with him went to the home of one Homer Cook to secure assistance.

The car which was not seriously damaged was driven to Atlasburg. Zubar leaves a wife and four children. Funeral services will be held den. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Notice to Scoutmasters. You are requested to mobilize your full Troop with Troop and Patrol Flags and Colors at P. R. R. station at 7:15 p. m., Thursday, June 26. All second-class tests will be given at Rodgers' farm, Tuesday and Wednesday at 5:30 p. m.

FIREMEN TO HOLD A BIG BAZAAR

people have been drowned and property already damaged thousands of dollars by the most disastrous floods in the history of the Min river, according to advices here today.

The city of Fu Chow, a treaty port on the Yangtze river, is 35 miles up the Min from its mouth, is three-quarters under water. The entire warehouse district is submerged.

Shipping is menaced by log rafts of the timber companies which are being swirled down by the flood with the force of battering rams.

The rice crop is almost entirely ruined, a dispatch says, "and many tea plantations under water."

Higher water is feared tonight. A report at noon from Yen-Ping, farther up the river, said the water had reached a 60-foot level there, eight feet above the previous high record. It was still raining heavily.

Week of July 4 Selected — Starts On June 30 With Parade And Is Concluded July 5—Location Yards of Pennsylvania Railroad

15 DEPARTMENTS PARADE

Boy Scouts. Floats of Business Men, Burgess, Members of Borough Council, And Civic Organizations — Three-Man Tramboline Act to Be Feature

While there will probably be no formal celebration on the part of the people to celebrate the Fourth of July in Charleroi, the local firemen will celebrate the week of the Fourth by holding a Bazaar, which will have its start on next Monday evening, June 30, and run through until Saturday evening, July 5, inclusive. The bazaar booths, containing many things, both useful and ornamental will be located in the yards of the Pennsylvania railroad, the proceeds from which will be devoted toward liquidation of the indebtedness on the fine new hook and ladder truck.

Monday evening the week's festivities will be inaugurated auspiciously by the parade, in which 15 fire departments will be represented, inclusive of all the companies from Federicktown to Monongahela. There there will be the Boy Scouts, the floats of business men, members of the borough council and the burgesses, and several civic organizations in line. This week, Wednesday or Thursday, the firemen will decorate both Fallowfield and McKean avenues.

One of the distinct features that will prove an innovation here, something meritorious, and secured by the firemen at great expense, and that is the three-man tramboline act, 35 feet in the air, where the performers do hair-raising stunts. This act was secured direct from New York city, and will be new to the people. It can be seen each night free of charge.

On Friday, July 4, there will be an entertainment program provided, and a monstrous fireworks display in the evening.

NOTICE.

The Ginger Hill Grange will hold a Strawberry and Ice Cream Festival, Tuesday evening, June 24, 1924, at their hall on the Monongahela-Washington pike. The public is cordially invited. 171*

DONORA BANKER IS IN THE COUNTY JAIL

CHORUS GIRL CONTEST AT PALACE TONIGHT

Miss Humphrey's of the Dancing Buddies Musical comedy Company who is playing her farewell week at the Palace Theatre, has a very unique offering for the patrons of the Palace tonight. Immediately after the first performance she will stage what is termed a Chorus Girl Contest, something entirely new and novel, and undoubtedly will prove one of the biggest hits, every young lady in this talented organization will take part in this novelty contest, and the patrons may be assured of seeing some real fun. This contest will take place immediately after the first show, so be on hand early, so as to be assured a seat.

Don't forget Wednesday night's attraction will be Chester Humphrey's Choral Society of 40 voices, one of the biggest musical treats that has ever been offered to the patrons of the Palace Theatre. 171*

A. J. O'Donnell, the Donora banker, who is charged with embezzlement of funds of the bank, and who was recently arrested in Cleveland, was taken to the county jail at Washington yesterday, being unable to furnish bail, which was fixed at $20,000. The exact shortage at the Donora bank is said not to be known. According to reports the accounts were so juggled that the examiners were unable to determine the actual loss. O'Donnell disappeared from Donora last century, when the shortage was first discovered by examiners. He is said to have made an effort to raise the amount necessary to refund the bank and when he was unable to do this disappeared suddenly. Information charging O'Donnell with embezzlement was made by Alderman J. F. Carmichael of Washington, during the late winter, was on this warrant, that he was placed under arrest at Cleveland. 171*

CUDDY DEMARCO WINS IN HIS BOUT WITH
BERNSTEIN LAST NIGHT

Cuddy DeMarco of Charleroi was awarded the referee's decision over Jack Bernstein, former junior light-weight champion in their 12 round battle at Hartford, Conn., last night. DeMarco's victory over Bernstein last night places him in line for a battle for a championship. Bernstein surrendered his title of junior light-weight to Johnny Dundee in New York some time ago in what was termed a questionable decision. Dundee retained this title as well as the title of junior light-weight champion from him. DeMarco can make either of the weights and by eliminating Bernstein last night it is the logical move for Red Mason to match him with either Dundee or Kid Sullivan. Mason was fined $100 last night by the boxing commission for making remarks at the ringside that were out of order.

Noted Pirate Besieged
Cities of West Indies

Henry Morgan, one of the most famous of buccaneers, when a young boy was kidnapped in the streets of Bristol—it is claimed that he came of a good English family—and was sold as an indentured servant to some colonists in Barbados. When his time had expired he made his way to Jamaica and soon fell in with the buccaneers who infected that island. Before very long he became the captain of a ship.

At first he seems to have had but moderate fortune. He took part in several raids, but did not rise to prominence until he joined forces with Mansfield—the first of the buccaneers who succeeded in rallying enough pirates under one command to make himself formidable to fortified towns. Morgan became his principal lieutenant and when his chief died he became the acknowledged leader of the buccaneers.

In June, 1668, when he was thirty-three years old, Morgan collected a fleet of nine or ten small ships and perhaps 400 men. With them he attacked Puerto Bello and wrote his name alongside that of Sir Francis Drake in the records of Englishmen whom the Spaniards feared and hated. —Detroit News.

ZIVIC DELIVERS AN ALLEGED ILLEGAL BLOW

Jack Zivic, the Pittsburgh lightweight, was the victim of an unfortunate ruling by Referee Johnny Gallagher in his bout with Pat Moran of New Orleans at the Queensborough stadium, Long Island City last night. In the third round of a scheduled 12-round engagement Zivic was disqualified after one minute and 43 seconds of the round for an alleged illegal blow.

Up to the time of the referee's ruling Zivic was out in front by an Irish mile. He Pittsburgher backed the southerner all over the place and was on the way to licking Moran decisively when the referee seemingly lost his head and gave the bout to Moran.

BY BEATING REDS
YESTERDAY PIRATES
IN FIRST DIVISION

McKee's boys continued their hitting streak yesterday afternoon in Cincinnati, and finally were rewarded by making their blows count, for they conquered their nemesis, Adolfo Luque, and took the measure of the Reds, 4 to 2.

A hard rain drenched the downtown district shortly before game time, and although the ball park escaped with only a sprinkle, the fans were scared away and the attendance, 1,553, was the smallest in Redland for the season.

Walbur Cooper's left-handed offerings were so puzzling that the Reds failed to bunt any swats until the ninth inning when they wasted a pair or singles.

They were held to six all told and for five innings it looked like a one hit game, but one smash in the sixth and one in the seventh and one in the eighth, were produced. Luque was trounced for 12 safe drives. Cliff Lee baited for him in the eighth, but died on an easy fly and then Jackie May broke into the frolic. The little southpaw started off like a cyclone, fanning Schmidt and Cooper as fast as they appeared on the scene. Eddie Moore, however, fooled a kake by delivering his third hit of the day and he stole second, but Carey fled out and then the Reds proceeded to start their farewell rally which soon was smothered and they were ousted from the first division which they had proudly occupied over night.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION OPENED

fore this quadrennial session ends.

Smith Headquarters, New York, June 24—When the National Democratic convention opens here today, William G. McAdoo will be away out in the lead, with Gov. Smith a rather poor second, on the face of existing figures. He has behind him only the solid delegation of New York—his own state. But sections of New England, according to the Smith claims, will line up with the Empire State, and on the first ballot Smith will "poll nearly 200 votes," his pre-convention managers claimed.

McAdoo Headquarters, New York, June 24—"McAdoo will climb within 130 votes of the Democratic presidential nomination on the fifth ballot," was the claim advanced today by managers of the leading candidate, just before the opening of the first day's convention session.

The new strength is said to have been garnered in last minute deals with independent and party delegations. It will begin to display itself quietly on the third ballot and then will come in a rush on the fifth, according to the McAdoo enthusiasts.

A half dozen floor leaders furthering McAdoo's candidacy within the convention hall rely upon this strength to stampede their candidate through. With 600 votes, just 132 short of the nomination, McAdoo would admittedly be at his strongest.

Never, they say, has a candidate come so close and then failed in swinging the nomination.

FILMS THAT APPEAL TO POPULAR TASTE

"To people of mature years, the drama of domestic love is most appealing," says Gasnier, director of "Daughters of the Rich," tomorrow and Thursday at the Majestic Theatre. "The way other couples get along—their joys, sorrows and difficulties—is one of our most absorbing human problems."

This fact was proved by the interest aroused by "Rich Men's Wives" from the story by Agnes Christine Johnson and Frank Dacey which Gasnier directed less than a year ago. The logical successor to "Rich Men's Wives," was of course, a story of the wives of poor men—hence "Poor Men's Wives." The same authors wrote this second play of what, has now developed into a successful quartet of photoplays. Gasnier also directed this latest Al Lichtman attraction.

He (with usual passion)—I know we just met you this evening, but can't you give me just one kiss? She (with usual disdain)—Huh, st because you're a ham, don't think of me again.

The baseball star, a famous pitcher, had been induced to enter the pyres, and was supposed to be the hero. The director told him to throw a heroine a kiss, but through force of habit he curved it so that it missed her.

What kind of a poet was that? As a naturalist. Why, the bird beat the paying teller's window, and there's one thing that we surely know.

Can't you see that poet was a liar.

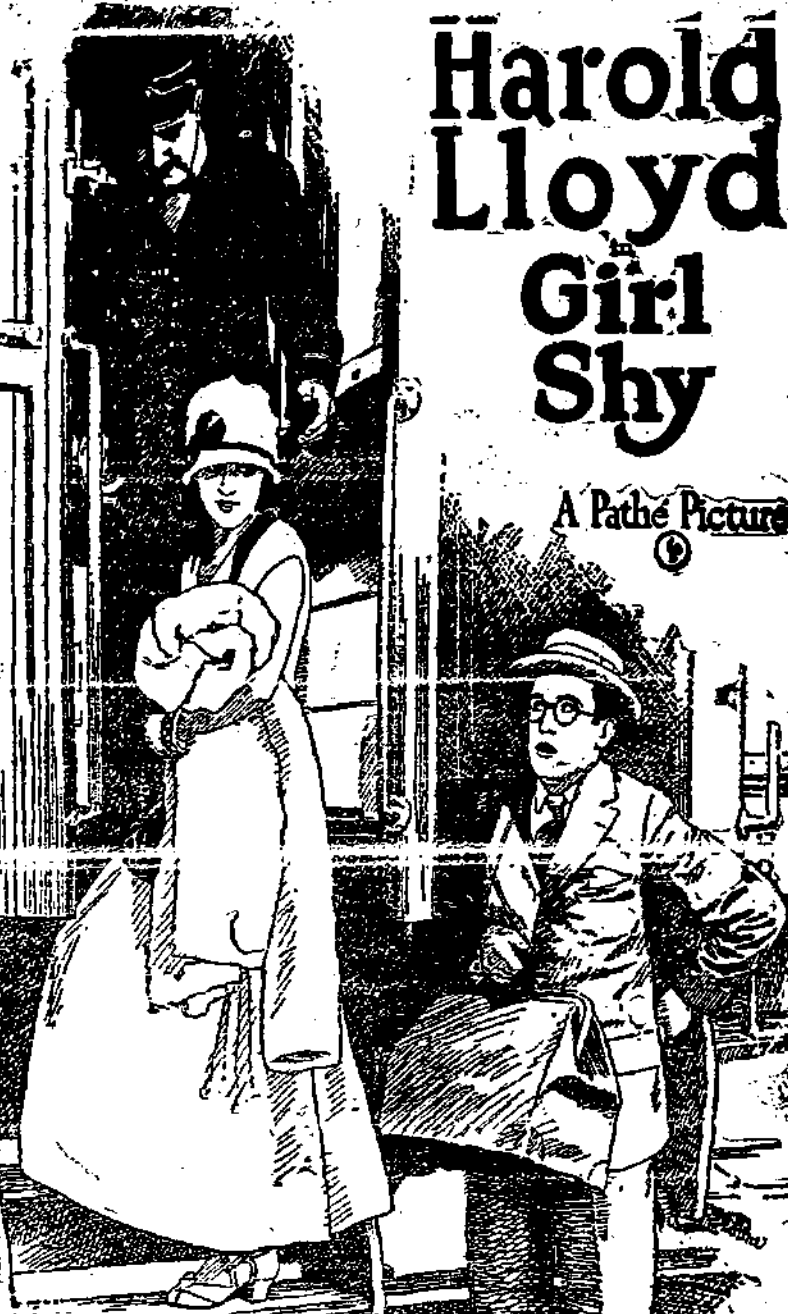

Coming from the way girls are in their hair, I'm chingled these days.

LLOYD BASHFUL

RIOUS FUN

The dictionary gives the definition of bashfulness as "shrinking modesty." But our definition, after viewing Harold Lloyd's latest Pathe comedy, "Girl Shy," at the Coyle Theatre yesterday is that bashfulness is decidedly a subject for expansive laughter. Bashful persons have always inspired us with pity for them, but when Lloyd is seen as a boy scared to death of the female sex, he makes the part one of riotous mirth.

Lloyd is indeed one comedian whose pictures are ever a delight to see, for the reviewer and the audience never know what to expect of him in advance.

"Girl Shy" will remain at the Coyle theatre three more days; and it is one of the few pictures that can be recommended heartily to those who like to "shop" for their entertainment. For it is certainly a gloom chaser de luxe.

Another feature in connection with the meritorious show, is the depicting of a single reel relating to golfing—of particular interest to devotees of this sport, in which Jones, Sarazen, and other experts are filmed.

Give Her Time

Rastus—Ah wants a divorce. Dat woman jes' talk, talk, talk, night an' day. Ah can't get no rest and dat talk am drivin' me crazy.

Young Lawyer—What does she talk about?

Rastus—She don't say—Life.

Can He Keep Her There?

In Society's Realm

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Gladys V. Willoughby, daughter of Mrs. Caroline Willoughby of North Highland avenue, Pittsburgh, and Glen F. Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Murphy of Crest avenue, Charleroi, which was solemnized Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church, Pittsburgh, by the rector, Rev. Lester Leake Riley. Miss Frances Schulteis of Pittsburgh was maid of honor and John Speers of Speers, served as the groom's best man. A breakfast for the families and a few immediate friends of the contracting parties followed the ceremony in the Willoughby home. Mr. and Mrs. Murphy are touring the East and upon their return will make their home in Washington.

Mrs. H. B. Hayden, wellknown and prominent resident of Monongahela for the past twenty-odd years, who is leaving that city tomorrow to make her home in Dormont, was accorded a farewell surprise reception at her beautiful home in Stanton street last evening, by her friends. There were approximately 100 guests present who came to tender their parting greetings. In a fine presentation speech of well chosen words, Rev. Father P. J. Kitrick, pastor of the Church of Transfiguration in behalf of assembly, presene Mrs. Hayden with a silver basket filled with beautiful red roses. A musical entertainment was much enjoyed. Misses Agnes and Rose Gamble entertained with vocal solos, as well as Mrs. Mary McGinty. The Hayden girls, Vera and Athryn, favored with violin and piano selections. In closing, refreshments were served by the laies. Out-of-town guests were present, namely: Mrs. Frank Osterhout, Sr., Miss Sarah Marsh of Beechview, Mrs. Arthur Burke and Mrs. Joseph Boyle of Monessen.

A very impressive wedding ceremony was solemnized yesterday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. Father McBirney, pastor of the St. Francis Roman Catholic church at Finleyville, when Miss Rose Isabel Telbau of Hackett, Pa., and Khar L. Price, of Kellettsville, Forest county, who came to Charleroi two years ago to work in the mills, were united in marriage. The bride, who was attired in a white canton crepe dress with headpiece and train of white tulle and carried a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses, was attended by her sister, Miss Catherine Telbau. The groom was attended by William H. Shaw, who journeyed from Kellettsville, and acted as best man. Promptly at 10 o'clock they marched up the aisle of the church to the strains of Lohegrin's bridal chorus and were married. The ring ceremony was used. After the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served, and at 6 p. m. a large reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. At 10 o'clock last evening, the bride and groom left on an extended wedding trip to Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit and Buffalo. They expect to return about July 7th and will go to their new home at 560 Isabelle avenue, North Charleroi, where they will welcome their many friends.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN

Tells of Mrs. Vogel's Terrible Suffering and How She Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Detroit, Michigan. — "My troubles were severe pains in my back and terrible bearing-down pains in my right side, also headaches and sleepless nights. I first began having troubles when I was 15, and they have increased as I grew older. A little booklet was left at my door, and I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women and decided to try it. After the first week I could go to sleep every night and feel a better appetite. The doctor had always said that an operation was the only thing that would help me, but I never had any faith in an operation. Since the Vegetable Compound has started helping me I do not suffer the severe pains, feel stronger, and am able to do my own work. I am more than glad to tell my friends that it helps where other medicines have failed. Mrs. GUS VOGEL, 6808 Pelouze Street, Detroit, Michigan.

A record of fifty years service must convince women of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
